DESCRIPTION OF KINDS OF BUSINESS

Kind-of-business classifications are not interchangeable with commodity classifications. Food stores, for instance, sell more than food, and food also is sold in other kinds of stores, including variety, general, and department stores. Likewise, apparel, furniture, and drugs are sold in many stores not classified as apparel, furniture, or drug stores. For the purpose of this classification it is necessary to include each establishment in a particular group on the basis of the activity from which it derives the principal part of its receipts. Many establishments sell such a wide range of articles that they cannot be classified on a basis of commodity sales; in such cases establishments are classified on the basis of usual trade designations, such as drug stores, delicatessens, and variety stores.

Ninety-nine kinds of business are shown in table 2 of this report. These 99 are combined into 18 major classifications. At the head of table 1, these are further reduced to 11 major business groups, summarizing the 1939, 1935, and 1929 information. Each major group, except the miscellaneous group, includes stores dealing in related commodities, such as food, apparel and accessories, furniture, household appliances, etc.

These kinds of business defined below are arranged by groups, in the same order as they appear in table 2. In most cases these definitions consist of listing the principal commodity or commodities sold by stores in the classification. In using these definitions the reader is cautioned that commodities not listed may also be sold by establishments in a given kind of business. The classification refers to the primary sales emphasis of the stores included

FOOD GROUP

The Food Group includes 13 classifications. Establishments primarily engaged in selling prepared foods and meals for consumption on the premises, such as eating and drinking places, are included in classifications under those names, and stores primarily engaged in selling packaged liquor are also classified elsewhere.

GROCERY STORES (WITHOUT FRESH MEATS).—These stores are primarily engaged in selling at retail all sorts of canned foods, such as soups, vegetables, fruits, and meats, in addition to dry groceries, either packaged or in bulk, such as tea, coffee, cocoa, dried fruits, spices, sugar, flour, and crackers. They may carry smoked and prepared meats, and fresh fish and poultry in limited quantities, but not fresh meats. Usually fresh vegetables and fruits are carried.

COMBINATION STORES (GROCERIES-MEATS).—These stores are primarily engaged in selling the same line of merchandise as grocery stores, in combination with fresh meats.

DAIRY PRODUCTS STORES.—These establishments are primarily engaged in selling at retail such dairy products as milk, cream, butter, cheese, and related products. The dairy products store is engaged in over-the-counter sales to customers and this classification is differentiated from milk dealers in method of distribution and not by kind of commodity. Farmers' stands are excluded.

MILK DEALERS.—These establishments are primarily engaged in selling milk and cream, by daily delivery to the home. This classification is differentiated from the dairy products store in method of distribution and not by kind of commodity. The retail census excludes dairy farms, even though such farms sell milk at retail by daily delivery to the home. Dairy farms are included in the Census of Agriculture. Dealers who sell primarily to retailers or hotels and restaurants are considered, for census purposes, as engaged in wholesaling and are included in Wholesale Census reports.

MEAT MARKETS.—These stores are primarily engaged in selling fresh meats. They also sell cured meats, poultry, fish, dairy products, eggs, and other commodities.

FISH (SEA FOOD) MARKETS.—Included in this classification are stores and markets primarily engaged in selling fresh fish, oysters, and other sea foods.

CANDY, NUT STORES.—These stores are engaged in selling, primarily, boxed or bulk candy, or boxed or bulk nuts.

CONFECTIONERY STORES.—These stores sell other kinds of confections, in addition to boxed and bulk candies and nuts. Operation of a soda fountain or lunch counter is common.

DELICATESSEN STORES.—These stores handle a wide range of products, many of which, such as meats and salads, are cooked foods ready for consumption in the home without further preparation. This classification is based largely on the trade designation and the stores included are, with few exceptions, those which designate themselves as delicatessens.

FRUIT STORES, VEGETABLE MARKETS.—These stores, stands, and markets sell primarily fresh fruits or fresh vegetables or both. They are frequently found in public or municipal markets or are operated as roadside stands.

BAKERIES, CATERERS.—This classification includes the retail bakery goods store that purchases its goods from a manufacturing bakery, and the retail branch of a manufacturing bakery. This classification also includes the manufacturing bakery whose business amounts to less than $5,000 for the year. Caterers represent a specialized business in which service plays an important part, whose primary source of revenue is from the preparation of food and the serving of that food elsewhere than at the place of business. Manufacturing bakeries with annual production of $5,000 or more are included in the Census of Manufactures, and are not included either as retail or wholesale establishments in Business Census reports.

EGG AND POULTRY DEALERS.—These stores are engaged in selling, primarily, eggs and live or dressed poultry. Dairy products are frequently handled.

OTHER FOOD STORES.—Included in this classification are stores and house-to-house distributors of coffee, tea, and spices; stores handling health foods, and other specialty food stores.

GENERAL STORES (WITH FOOD)

These stores sell a general line of merchandise, such as hardware, farm supplies, apparel and notions, with a substantial volume of food. These stores frequently sell gasoline and related automotive supplies and accessories. They are located typically but not exclusively in the smaller communities, and are frequently known as general merchandise stores. Many general stores designated as such on their schedules but shown by their commodity sales analysis to be predominantly food stores are therefore classified as grocery or combination stores. Others were found to be feed stores, or filling stations, or general merchandise stores, and are so classified.

GENERAL MERCHANDISE GROUP

The General Merchandise Group includes five classifications; these stores selling a number of lines of merchandise such as dry goods, apparel and accessories, furniture and home furnishings, small wares, hardware, and often food. Mail-order houses in the general merchandise field are included in this group but not as a separate kind of business.

DEPARTMENT STORES.—Department stores are general merchandise stores with sales in excess of $100,000, usually of the full-service type, carrying men's, women's, and children's apparel and shoes, furnishings and accessories, dry goods, home-wares, and many other lines. Furniture and hardware are often but not necessarily represented, although home furnishings, draperies, curtains, and linens are almost invariably carried.

DRY GOODS STORES.—These stores sell primarily piece goods in combination with women's and children's ready-to-wear apparel and accessories, homewares, light hardware, and notions. Price range is unrestricted.

GENERAL MERCHANDISE STORES WITH FOOD.—These stores carry lines of men's clothing and women's apparel in combination with dry goods, groceries and food, hardware, homewares or house furnishings, and other lines in limited amounts. General merchandise stores selling a substantial quantity of food (one-third or more of total sales) are classified as General Stores (with food).

GENERAL MERCHANDISE STORES—OTHER.—These stores carry lines of men's clothing and women's apparel in combination with dry goods, hardware, homewares or house furnishings, and other lines in limited amounts. Department stores having sales of less than $100,000 are included.

VARIETY STORES.—These stores carry a variety of small wares, especially lower-priced lines of stationery, gift items, women's accessories, toilet articles, light hardware, toys, housewares, confectionery, etc. Sales are usually for cash without delivery service. They are frequently distinguished by advertised price ranges of "5 and 10 cent" or "5 cents to a dollar."

APPAREL GROUP

This group includes 16 classifications; these stores selling primarily clothing, shoes, hats, underwear, and related articles for personal wear and adornment. The principal stores in the apparel field are men's stores, family stores, women's apparel stores, and shoe stores.

MEN'S-BOYS' FURNISHINGS STORES.—These stores sell primarily men's and boys' furnishings, such as gloves, hosiery, shirts, and underwear. They are frequently known as haberdashery stores, although this term is also used to cover items such as clothing. Men's-boys' hat stores are separately classified.

MEN'S-BOYS' HAT STORES.—These stores sell primarily men's and boys' hats and caps.

MEN'S-BOYS' CLOTHING STORES (AND FURNISHINGS).—This classification includes stores selling primarily men's and boys' overcoats, topcoats, suits, and work clothing. CORSET AND LINGERIE SHOPS.—These stores are engaged in selling primarily women's corsets, girdles, brassieres, lingerie, negligees, slips, and underwear. Combinations of other women's apparel and accessories are also frequently carried.

CUSTOM TAILORS.—This classification includes establishments which designate themselves as either custom tailors or merchant tailors. They are engaged in making and selling primarily men's clothing (and less frequently, women's clothing) to individual order. Many of these establishments also report receipts from repair service, but if the major portion of total receipts is from repair service, the establishment is classified in the Service Census. The home dressmaker is not classified as a custom tailor.

MEN'S SHOE STORES.—Included in this classification are those stores specializing in men's and boys' footwear.

FAMILY SHOE STORES.—These stores are primarily engaged in selling footwear for men, women, and children, without specializing in any one line.

WOMEN'S SHOE STORES.—These stores are engaged in selling primarily women's and misses' footwear.

RADIO—MUSICAL INSTRUMENT STORES.—These stores are engaged in the sale of radios in combination with musical instruments.

AUTOMOTIVE GROUP

This group includes eight classifications; dealers selling new and used automobiles, new parts and accessories, aircraft, motorboats, and motorcycles. Automotive distributors, the greater part of whose sales are to dealers, are excluded from this group, and are included in the Census of Wholesale Trade. A distributor of automobiles whose sales are primarily at wholesale is included in the Census of Wholesale Trade even though he may be the principal retailer in the area. The effect of this factor is important enough to cause an understatement of retail automobile sales in many areas. Establishments primarily engaged in selling trucks and motorized industrial equipment are, for census purposes, classified as wholesale establishments.

MOTOR-VEHICLE DEALERS (NEW AND TRADE-IN).—These dealers specialize in the sale of automobiles. They frequently carry stocks of replacement parts and maintain repair departments to provide service and repairs. Limited quantities of tires, batteries, and automotive accessories are ordinarily carried, the sales of which are included in the total sales reported.

MOTOR-VEHICLE DEALERS (RETAIL-WHOLESALE).—These establishments are engaged in selling at retail new automobiles in combination with a subsidiary amount of wholesale sales. Establishments which are engaged in selling automobiles both at retail and wholesale are included in this classification when more than 50 percent of total sales are made at retail, but are included in the Wholesale Census if more than 50 percent of their total sales are at wholesale.

USED-CAR DEALERS.—Included in this classification are only those establishments engaged primarily in the sale of used cars.

ACCESSORY, TIRE, BATTERY DEALERS.—These establishments are primarily engaged in selling automobile tires, batteries, and other accessories.

Filling stations also sell tires and tubes, other automobile accessories, and sometimes lunches, candy, tobacco, and groceries.

LUMBER--BUILDING GROUP

This group includes five classifications; these establishments selling in retail quantities, lumber, heating and plumbing equipment, paint, glass, wallpaper, electrical supplies, and other construction material and supplies. The retail dealer sells to contractors and farmers, as well as other ultimate consumers. Distributors of lumber and building materials who sell primarily to dealers for resale are considered, for census purposes, as engaged in wholesaling and are included in the Wholesale Census reports.

LUMBER YARDS.—Lumber yards are establishments engaged primarily in selling lumber. Retail lumber yards often carry builders' hardware, roofing materials, and other builders' supplies.

Dealers primarily engaged in the sale of household appliances are classified as household appliance dealers. Not included in electrical supply stores are those electrical shops whose receipts are obtained primarily from construction activity. These are included in the Construction Census.

HARDWARE GROUP

This group includes stores selling a number of basic lines of hardware, such as tools, builders' hardware, paint, glass, housewares, household appliances, cutlery, roofing materials, and farm implements.

DRINKING PLACES—OTHER.—This classification includes drinking places in which food is not sold.

DRUG STORES

The stores which come under this group have been included on the basis of their usual trade designation rather than the more strict interpretation of the commodities handled. These stores sell prescriptions, drugs, or patent medicines, in combination with lines such as cosmetics, toiletries, tobacco, magazines and books, and novelty merchandise. In some States bottled wines and liquors constitute an important part of drug store sales.

DRUG STORES WITH FOUNTAIN.—These stores have the characteristics of drug stores as described above, and in addition operate a soda fountain and sell lunches and meals, frequently with rather extensive table service.

DRUG STORES—OTHER.—These stores have the characteristics of drug stores as described above, but do not operate a soda fountain or sell lunches or meals.

In many areas, coal and wood yards sell substantial quantities of ice during the summer months and ice dealers frequently sell fuel during winter months. Many fuel dealers are selling an increasing quantity of fuel oil, but when the major portion of the sales volume is from the sale of fuel oil, the establishment is classified as a fuel-oil retailer.

FUEL-OIL RETAILERS.—This classification includes establishments engaged primarily in selling fuel oil at retail. Many dealers, the major portion of whose receipts is from the sale of fuel oil, also handle related items of coal, coke, wood, and ice. Stores primarily engaged in selling fuel-oil burners and those engaged in installing and servicing fuel-oil burners are not included in this classification.

HAY, GRAIN, AND FEED STORES (WITH GROCERIES).—This classification includes stores selling the basic lines of hay, grain, feed, and fertilizer, in combination with a substantial amount of groceries and minor lines of farm supplies.

HAY, GRAIN, AND FEED—FARM IMPLEMENTS.—This classification, like the one above, includes stores selling primarily the basic lines of hay, grain, feed, and fertilizer, but with substantial
